STEEL PLANT DRIVE ON NEXT TO LAST DAY, FUND UP TO $56,300

PRISONERS OF ALCAZAR TELL HORROR TALES

Food Practically Gone as Help Arrives, but Only Few Perished in Attack.

RADIO KEPT UP HOPE

Seven Hundred Huddled in Caverns as Rebel Forces Come to Rescue.

By The Associated Press

The terrifying story of Toledo's rescued Alcazar was unfolded bit by bit, today, while Spanish insurgents started a fresh drive on Madrid and the government, slowing its reinforcements to Toledo built a giant defense system before the capital itself.

In the last hours of the Fascist assault on Toledo Sunday, survivors said today, 600 Catholic priests supporting the rebellion were slaughtered by frenzied leftists.

Looting and slaying raged apace, these persons said, while Fascist guns boomed at the city's gates. The defenders fled as the Fascist legions entered triumphantly.

From the Alcazar survivors came these stories of the siege and the rescue:

"Everything was destroyed around the Alcazar" in the 72 days of artillery fire, dynamite and flaming gasoline.

Radio reports of the advance of the insurgents kept the Alcazar's men, women, and children alive "and food dropped from planes kept us going."

Women, Children Uninjured

Women and children all escaped without injury."

In one wing of the crumbling fortress' cellars, 700 survivors huddled together at the last to await the rescue.

Women and children first was the rule when the food was rationed out," during the siege.

And the food—97 horses and 27 mules— Only one horse and five mules survived. And tiny pieces of black bread, made from desperately stolen wheat.

The charge of dynamite, set off by government besiegers, caused "comparatively little injury" because an engineer among the self-imprisoned Fascists heard the excavation being dug and knew what part of the Alcazar would be blown up. The Fascists fled to other sections.

Insurgents said all priests in the Toledo cathedral, near the Alcazar, were executed except one who was celebrating mass in an underground chapel.

Starvation was written on the bodies of all who came out of the Alcazar. No one had more than a quart of water to drink a day.

Careful Records Kept

A careful record kept by the defenders showed that 11,200 shells landed; 30 attacks were made from the air; that 1,500 hand grenades, 2,000 dynamite bombs, 500 aerial bombs, 35 gasoline tanks and 200 bottles of inflammable liquids were thrown by the government forces.

Three of the Alcazar's defenders killed themselves, five died natural deaths, said this tabulation.

Fifty-seven "disappeared by explosions." Thirty others deserted or unaccountably vanished.

Despite the comparatively small loss shown by these figures, other, unconfirmed reports said perhaps 70 per cent of the original 1,700 persons in the citadel were killed or wounded.

"We never would have given in," said Col. Jose Moscardo, idolized leader of the waxen-faced Fascists who came jubilantly out of the ruins which had sheltered them so long.

But it was becoming difficult ... we had only one bottle of chloroform left for operations on the wounded. ..food was so scarce."

As for the drive on Madrid,

PUPILS STILL OUT IN STRIKE

Five Hundred Stand in Rain as Board Prepares Appeal to State.

MAYOR BANS TEAR GAS

Officials Deadlock on Question of Restoring Demoted Teacher to School.

By The Associated Press

CAMPBELL, O., Sept. 29—Five hundred students stood in a drizzling rain on a picket line today as a strike at Memorial high school, in which police employed tear gas bombs, entered its third day.

As the students huddled in raincoats and beneath umbrellas, protesting against the transfer of Michael Graban, a favorite instructor, to a grade school, a school board member said the board probably would appeal to state authorities in their efforts to settle the dispute.

Principal M. O'Mellan claimed 250 of the school's 1,000 students reported for classes, but student strike leaders asserted not more than 150 entered the building.

Two secret board sessions last night resulted in a deadlock on reinstatement of Graban on the high school faculty.

Supt. A. S. Klinko "refused to reinstate Graban under any condition," one board member said privately after the second meeting broke up at midnight.

He said that he and another board member voted to return the popular instructor to Memorial High, while two others voted to uphold the superintendent. A fifth member was absent from both sessions.

Mayor John J. Borak said no more tear gas would be used against the students, who yesterday were temporarily dispersed when two bombs sent fifteen, including four of the team's football players, to doctors for treatment.

"If I had known it in time, police would not have used the gas," the mayor asserted.

William Glass, president of the board of education, announced after the first meeting last yesterday "I'm going to have it out here and now. We're going to have another meeting at 8:30 tonight in the high school auditorium."

Some 500 milled about the building as time came for the meeting—but the building was in darkness, the doors locked. The demonstrators disbanded and the star chamber conferees were located later in session in downtown Campbell, a Youngstown suburb.

Police arrested a fourth person last night on charges of suspicion. Police Chief Frank Cunningham said the strike was led by "outside agitators." Three were arrested yesterday.

Graban was transferred to a grade school but did not report, saying his certificate permitted him to teach only in high schools. Some 800 of Memorial High's 1,000 students missed classes yesterday because of the strike.

Union Movement Brings School Strike

By The Associated Press

JASPER, Ala., Sept. 29—Two moves to settle a strike of Walker county school children were under way today while tension increased in the effort of union leaders to organize school teachers.

County Supt. A. S. Scott, whose action in declining to reemploy three union teachers led to the strike, said he believed a "settlement will be reached soon."

State Supt. J. A. Keller and R. R. Moore, state labor commissioner were ordered here by Gov. Bibb Graves to seek an end to the walkout, which has closed one school.

Union spokesmen said 10,000 of the county's 17,000 children were out of classrooms.

Eleven Men Convicted in Black Legion Slaying

Seven Convicted of First Degree Murder and Two of Second; One Is Acquitted; Widow in Courtroom as Clerk Reads Verdict of Jury.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Sept. 29—Eleven of the 12 men charged with plotting the Black Legion "execution" of Charles A. Poole on an isolated suburban road last May 12 were convicted today in circuit court.

Seven of the defendants were convicted of first degree murder, and four others of second degree murder. Herschell Gill, the twelfth defendant whose fate rested in the hands of the jury, was acquitted. Two other defendants had waived jury trial, and Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan did not announce his decision regarding them at once.

Those convicted of first degree murder were "Colonel" Harvey Davis, John Bannerman, Ervin D. Lee, Edgar Baldwin, Lowell Rushing, Urban Lipps, and Paul R. Edwards.

The two convicted of second degree murder were Virgil Morrow and Thomas R. Craig.

The jury deliberated an hour and 25 minutes.

Mrs. Rebecca Poole, widow of the young WPA worker for whose death the nine were convicted, was among those in the courtroom to hear the verdict.

After the foreman of the jury had announced the count on which each of the nine was convicted, Judge Moynihan found John S. Vincent and Albert Stevens guilty of second degree murder. They had waived jury trial.

County Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrae and assistant Attorney General Chester P. O'Hara, jointly handling the case for the state, disagreed in closing arguments yesterday.

O'Hara told the jury that one defendant should be acquitted and that five of the others might be entitled to the benefit of "a reasonable doubt."

McCrae demanded the conviction of all 12 charged with taking the former WPA worker to a lonely roadside ditch where he was "executed," the state charges, after Legion members were incited against him by false rumors that Poole mistreated his wife.

Bernard W. Cruse, arguing for the defense, placed the blame for the killing on chubby Dayton Dean, self styled "triggerman" who pleaded guilty and testified for the state. Cruse contended that it was ridiculous to assume that Poole's death was plotted by a group.

Under Michigan law the maximum penalty for first degree murder is life imprisonment. Second degree conviction leaves the sentence to the discretion of the court.

Admiral Sims Will Be Buried At Arlington

Man Who Taught Navy How To Shoot Dies in Boston at 77.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 29—"Taps" will sound in Arlington National cemetery Thursday for Admiral William Sowden Sims, caustic-tongued commander of America's European fleet in the World war.

Admiral Sims, who "taught the navy how to shoot," died here late yesterday at the age of 77, ending after 14 years' retirement a career which President Roosevelt described as a "remarkable period of service to his country."

That service encompassed 42 years during which Sims unsparingly attacked naval weaknesses, and frequently met attacks upon himself.

Admiral Sims

Burial in Arlington with all naval honors will be the nation's final tribute to the man who refused a distinguished service medal in 1919 on the ground it had been awared to others unwisely.

President Roosevelt, former assistant secretary of the navy, was "deeply grieved" at his Hyde Park home. He said Admiral Sims' death "marks the closing of a brilliant and colorful career in the navy, the end of a remarkable period of service to his country. Dynamic and forceful, he was admired and respected by friend and foe alike."

Sims himself said he "just scraped" into the United States naval academy in 1876 after once failing to pass the entrance tests. He did secret service work in Europe during the Spanish-American war; became president of the War college in 1917, and throughout America's participation in the World war was commander in the active war zone.

Several times Admiral Sims was accused of insubordination. Twice he drew reprimands from high officials. More than once he barely escaped courtmartial.

He showed Theodore Roosevelt, then assistant secretary of the navy, that the entire Atlantic fleet could not sink a condemned sailing vessel little more than a half mile away. Another exhibition, when Roosevelt had become President, gave little better results.

Sims—only a lieutenant at the time—appealed directly to the President. Roosevelt put him in charge of target practice, and in six years Sims made the American gunners the best in the world, by specific comparison.

LIQUOR AND DOPE VIOLATORS CAUGHT

U. S. Agents Round Up 1,000 in Nationwide Offensive Against Crime.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29—Striking suddenly in cities from coast to coast, treasury law enforcement agencies today had made close to 1,000 arrests and seized several hundred illicit stills in a drive against narcotic and liquor law violators.

With 2,500 agents mobilized for the offensive, preliminary reports showed that more than 400 persons had been taken into custody on narcotic charges.

Most of these were arrested for alleged peddling of narcotics, officials said.

The narcotics bureau and the treasury's alcohol tax unit headed the drive, described as a periodic "cleanup." The coast guard, customs bureau and other treasury enforcement agencies cooperated.

Preliminary reports from the alcohol tax unit showed that its agents had taken several hundred persons, together with more than 100 automobiles alleged to have been used in illicit liquor operations. Seizures of stills were expected to run into the hundreds.

Three parole violators were numbered among those taken in the

Auto Knocks Marion Porch Off Foundation

South Prospect Street Residence Struck Following Collision of Cars.

An uninvited guest paid a none-too-welcome call at the residence of W. H. Denzer of 279 South Prospect street last night. Involved in a collision at the intersection of Prospect and Columbia streets, a car driven by V. E. Harbaugh of Crestline, bounded over the curb, struck the front porch of the Denzer home and knocked it a full 12 inches off its foundation.

The car, northbound on Prospect street, had collided with another driven by Kenneth Eichorn, who resides nine miles east of Marion, and grazed a passing truck on its wild path which ended at the porch of the Denzer home. The accident occurred shortly after 7 o'clock according to a report of police who investigated.

Eichorn was headed west on Columbia street and the passenger cars collided at the intersection. Harbaugh's car grazed a rear fender of a truck driven by P. J. Faistl of 211 Superior street, just before going over the west curb into the Denzer's lawn. The automobile struck the porch at an angle near the front steps and moved the bottom of the porch and several pillars about a foot north of the foundation. The roof of the porch remained in place.

No one was injured in the collision. The Harbaugh car was damaged to the extent of about $325, according to employes of the Danner Buick Co. where the car was taken after the accident. Damage to the Denzer residence and Eichorn's car was not estimated while the rear fender of the truck was slightly damaged, it was reported.

FRANC VALUE CUT APPROVED

CHAMBER VOTES CONSENT

Premier Also Given Broad Powers To Prevent Rise in Prices.

(Copyright, 1936, Associated Press)

PARIS, Sept. 29—Adjustment of the French franc with the British pound and United States dollar was approved today by a weary chamber of deputies after a 25 hour session.

The vote on the government-sponsored proposal was 350 to 221.

The devaluation measure, which reduces the gold content of the franc by between one-quarter and one-third, was sent immediately to the senate.

Exportation and importation of gold was prohibited effective immediately in a decree published after the session in the official journal.

Cooperation of the United States and Great Britain in establishing a "monetary equilibrium" agreement was cited by Premier Leon Blum in a final appeal to the tired deputies.

He asserted the devaluating bill was one item in the French social reform program, which he compared to recovery legislation in the United States.

"President Roosevelt multiplied his trials until he found an efficacious method," the premier de-

MARION FOR LANDON IN MAGAZINE'S POLL

Shows Apparent Reversal of 1932, When Roosevelt Carried City.

If the 1936 Literary Digest Poll has tallied enough votes in Marion to be significant, a definite trend to the G. O. P. is indicated by last night's broadcast by John B. Kennedy, radio commentator, reporting the poll thus far in Marion. The total for Marion was: Roosevelt, 321; Landon, 534, and Lemke 55.

In 1932, Marion city favored Roosevelt in the election, giving him 5,882 to Hoover's 5,214. The county was more definitely in line with the 1932 Democratic landslide, casting 10,251 votes for Roosevelt, 8,560 for Hoover, and 316 for Thomas, Socialist candidate.

BOY SCOUT PILGRIMAGE PLANS MADE FOR NOV. 1

Columbus Newspaper Man To Speak in Annual Tribute to President Harding.

Plans for the annual pilgrimage of Boy Scouts of the Harding area to the tomb of President Warren G. Harding in honor of the late President's birthday were virtually completed today with announcement of the selection of Major Norman Imrie, editorial writer for the Columbus Dispatch, as memorial speaker.

Although Mr. Harding's birthday falls on Nov. 2, Boy Scout officials in charge of the pilgrimage said they had decided to hold the services on Sunday, Nov. 1 in order that more people might attend. The program is to begin at 4 p. m. and will last approximately 45 minutes, Arthur S. Brooks, scout executive for the Harding council, said today.

Arrangements will be made for enlisting the aid of a musical group for the occasion, probably the Harding High school band, he said.

Expect Large Attendance.

Last year between 200 and 300 scouts from the four counties in the Harding area attended the services, and more are expected this year. Invitations will be sent to all other regional offices in the state. Last year scouts came from Cincinnati, Toledo, Columbus,

Police Pension Invalid, City Says in Answer

No Legal Contract, Is Assertion in Opposing Test Suit; Clears Way for Hearing.

Pensions formerly paid retired members of the Marion police force were purely gifts and therefore subject to discontinuance by the donor, the city of Marion contends in substance in an answer filed in common pleas court yesterday in the suit brought against it by J. W. Thompson, former police chief.

In answer to Thompson's suit to prevent any interference with payment of police pensions, the city asserts its abolishment of all pension legislation last Feb. 25 was accomplished "duly and legally" and that the policemen had no vested rights in the pensions the city had been paying prior to that time.

The answer comes as an important development in the Marion pension fight, which has had reverberations among policemen's and firemen's organizations throughout the country and which may become a test of the legality of pensions for police and firemen generally.

City Solicitor Ralph E. Carhart, who prepared and filed the answer, said this move opens the way for assignment of the Thompson case for trial. The Thompson suit was begun last June 2.

Basis of Answer

The city contends abolishment of all pensions last Feb. 25 as a municipal economy move was "duly and legally" accomplished in view of the fact that the granting of a pension to policemen was purely a gratuitous grant or bounty" and not the result of any contract between the city and the policemen.

In view of the city's repeal of the pension legislation, Thompson has no further rights under the former pension ordinances and is not entitled to the things he sought in the petition, it is argued in the answer.

The city also seeks to make the issue in the suit a constitutional question by asserting that Thompson's contentions, if supported by the court, would be taking property without due process of law and contrary to the constitution of Ohio.

The city opens its answer with a general denial of the statements made in the petition by Thompson and closes it with a request that the suit be dismissed.

Thompson, in the petition filed last June, asserted the state law provides for a levy up to three-tenths of a mill on real estate for police pension purposes and that the city levied and collected $7,156 for police pension purposes. He asked that city and county officials having any authority over this money be enjoined from using the money for any purpose but police pensions and that they be enjoined from interfering with its use for pension purposes. Thompson is represented by W. P. Moloney.

The Thompson suit is the second court action that grew out of the city's repeal of pension legislation. The first was an action brought by H. D. Uline, pensioned fireman, who sought and obtained a temporary injunction restraining officials from using money collected for firemen's pensions for any other purpose. He also seeks a permanent injunction order.

State and national organizations of firemen and policemen have indicated they will back Marion department members to the finish in fighting the city's repeal of pension legislation. Developments in the case have been watched with interest by officials in cities throughout the United States.

RUFFING, HUBBELL GET MOUND CALLS

McCarthy and Terry Make Selections for Opening Game of Series.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 29—Joe McCarthy, manager of the New York Yankees, today nominated Charley (Red) Ruffing, burly right-hander, for pitching duty against the New York Giants in the opening game of the World series at the Polo grounds tomorrow. Carl Hubbell, great southpaw, will pitch for the Giants.

Ending widespread speculation among baseball experts who figured the pilot of the American league champions might be inclined to gamble on his erratic left-hander, Vernon Gomez, in the first game, McCarthy's choice instead fell on the veteran red-head who was by far the most consistent of Yankee pitchers this year.

Terry's announcement that Hubbell would start for the National league pennant-winners surprised no one. Hubbell, chalking up 26 victories during the season, wound up the regular season with a string of 16 successive victories. There did not appear to be any other possible choice.

Terry indicated that he would send young Hal Schumacher, a right-hander, against the Yankees in the second game and save Fred Fitzsimmons, a veteran, for the third game. McCarthy declined to hazard a guess on his pitching selections beyond the first game.

LANDON PLANS NEW VOTE DRIVE

Kansas Governor Prepares for Trip Into Illinois, Ohio and Michigan.

MAY SEE O. S. U.-PITT GAME

Candidate Says Farmers and Workers Want End of Personal Government.

By The Associated Press

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 29—By way of emphasizing his words "there will be no slackening in this campaign," Gov. Alf M. Landon announced details today for his fourth major vote drive.

Returning only last night from his third drive—the two previous were his New York-Pennsylvania campaign and his dash to Maine—the Republican presidential nominee stated:

"The people are in a fighting mood. There will be no slackening in this campaign. I shall leave on another campaign trip next week with speeches in Chicago, Oct. 9, in Cleveland Oct. 12 and in Detroit Oct. 14."

Fresh from his 1,600 mile campaign for the 78 electoral votes of Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois, Landon began a busy week of political planning, speech writing and state business.

"Travel during the past week," Landon added in a statement, "through the corn belt and dairy states of the middle west leads to the conclusion that there has developed in these states a determination to end personal government in Washington with its squandering of our resources, its waste, extravagance and incompetence.

Sees Markets Slipping

"The farmers, the dairy men and the industrial workers in Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois, regardless of party lines, are deeply concerned, as they should be, with the problems of government and the future of the country. They not only are disturbed but aroused by the tendencies of the present national administration.

"The farmers are aware that the administration's agriculture policies penalize plenty and reward scarcity and have robbed them of foreign markets and home markets as well. The dairy men know their markets have been turned over to foreign producers. The workers realize that they have been made the victim under the cloak of social security of a cruel hoax in the form of the largest tax bill in history."

The speeches in Chicago, Cleveland, and Detroit will be supplemented by rear platform talks in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

May See O. S. U. Game

Tentative consideration was given proposals to attend the Ohio State-Pitt football game at Columbus, Saturday, Oct. 10, and to visit Marietta academy at Marietta, O., where Landon as a boy attended school.

Indianapolis also was considered tentatively for an address.

Landon closed his midwestern campaign with reiterated attacks upon the social security act which he termed "a fraud upon the working man," and demands for elimination of waste, incompetence and "political favoritism" as "the first step in our program of constructive economy."

Notice of Campaign's Result To Be Sent Defiance Company Following Day.

Leaders in the Chamber of Commerce steel plant fund drive renewed their efforts to raise $8,700 this afternoon and tomorrow morning to round out the $65,000 fund needed to bring the plant of the Defiance Pressed Steel Co. to Marion.

A. J. Berry and E. J. Schoenlaub, joint chairmen, issued an appeal for voluntary subscriptions after abandoning plans for a house-to-house canvass of the city. The campaign in the residential districts was called off because of lack of time, Mr. Berry said.

An Appeal to All

"Certainly every civic minded Marion resident realizes it is part of his responsibility to contribute to this fund, and we feel everyone will want to give something," Mr. Berry said in his appeal for voluntary subscriptions.

"Persons who accept their responsibility for Marion's present and future welfare may make their contributions by using a blank that appears in today's issue of The Star," Mr. Berry said.

All drive workers were urged today to attend a report luncheon at Hotel Harding Wednesday noon. This meeting and a few hours of cleanup work Wednesday afternoon are expected to conclude campaign activities." The Chamber has agreed to give the Defiance company a definite answer on its $65,000 offer by Thursday.

A blank form to be used by persons wishing to make voluntary contributions to the Chamber of Commerce steel plant fund' may be found on page 11.

Water Service Extended

It was announced at drive headquarters today the Marion Water Co. had agreed to extend its water mains for a distance of 400 feet on Otis street to connect two dead-end lines and increase the water pressure at the Power Mfg. Co. building which the Defiance concern proposes to occupy. This was done at the request of the Defiance company, which needed the additional pressure for its fire sprinkler system. The work is to be done within 30 days from the time the plant locates in Marion.

Other developments today included the addition of the names of the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co., Western Union Telegraph Co., W. T. Grant store, Marty's Millinery shop and the Homburg King to the list of business concerns whose employes have made contributions to the drive.

KNOX TURNS TOWARD MICHIGAN IN TOUR

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 29—Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice presidential nominee, bent his campaign efforts today on Michigan, one of the five states — with Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Ohio—he has termed the "real battlefield" of the national election.

Knox is to deliver the principal address tonight before the Michigan state Republican convention in Grand Rapids, which was his boyhood home.

The nominee played the same role here last night in the New York state Republican convention. Knox paraphrased a line from President Roosevelt's Philadelphia acceptance speech to assail the idea that the administration had been "warm hearted," which he said was the best defense offered by newspapers supporting it.

MARSHFIELD Ore Sept 29—The elements which whipped forest fires into such a fury that they destroyed a town caused nine deaths and $3 000 000 damages came to the aid today of southwestern Oregon's 100 000 smoke covered acres

Only skeletons of buildings remained in Bandon The business district was destroyed along with about 400 homes by fire that forced the 1 500 residents to flee in the beach Saturday night Property losses at Bandon alone were estimated at $1 700 000 Coos County Judge Hugh McLain of Marshfield tentatively estimated damage in southwestern Oregon would total $3 000 000

Improved Traffic Safety Sought for School Pupils

Installation of New Warning Signals Probable in Action of Mayor and Council

A [illegible] Marion [illegible] installation of [illegible] signals on [illegible] near all schools [illegible] was launched last night by city council

The street and alley committee was authorized to make the study and make an early report of its recommendations

The movement was at the personal attention of Mayor Fred C Smith who suggested it at last night's council session

Parking regulations near schools may be changed and new signs to replace the present [illegible] type may be installed if the recommendations of Mayor Smith are carried out

Other matters before council last night included adoption of a motion fixing Oct 12 for hearing date on the 1937 city budget receipt of a petition for a traffic light on East Center street at Greenwood street discussion of a policy regarding reductions in cases where special assessments are regarded exhorbitant and transfer of funds in a number of departments

Parking Discussed

The school safety problem came up during discussion of a proposed ordinance that would modify council's recent action prohibiting parking on the west side of South Prospect street from the school administration building north of Bellefontaine avenue Council originally banned parking there at any time but the modification proposed last night would prohibit parking only during school hours Council voted down the proposed modification members explaining they preferred to wait until the street and alley committee completed its study and made recommendations before changing the present parking regulations at any school

Mayor Smith was brought into the discussion when Councilman D R Biggert who was absent at the recent meeting in which parking was banned on the section of South Prospect street asked who was the author of the original ordinance Mayor Smith answered by saying he was largely responsible for it

Mayor Explains Interest

The mayor then related how he had taken a personal interest in the parking restrictions near the school administration building at the request of several motorists He said his automobile figured in a mishap in which a daughter of Police Chief William F Marks was injured several years ago and he has felt constantly since that time that better traffic safeguards should be provided near the schools

The accident occurred about six years ago before Mayor Smith became mayor and before Chief Marks became head of the police department

I was [illegible] that the city needs better safeguards against traffic accidents [illegible]

[illegible] overhead traffic signals in the [illegible] school [illegible] whether the present signs are adequate

Councilman Clarence Hart [illegible] the school signs probably cause more traffic accidents than they prevent These signs are placed on a metal base in the center of the principal streets near school buildings in the city shortly before school begins in the morning and are left there until a short time after school is dismissed [illegible]

Possible Source of Funds

When some one raised the question of funds for new traffic signals near schools Mayor Smith said he thought enough money would be saved in the gasoline tax fund next year to purchase them

DAVEY RECORD ATTACKED BY G. O. P. SPEAKER HERE

State Young Republican Leader Heads Program, Bricker Coming for Meeting on Oct 9

"This is not merely a political campaign. It is not an ordinary contest between Republicans and Democrats as campaigns have been in the past. It is a question of patriotism, a crusade to save our country from this thing known as the new deal," was the definition of the national presidential campaign given by Robert Barton young Columbus attorney and executive secretary of the Ohio League of Young Republican clubs before launching into a discussion of the state political situation in an address to an audience last night in Marion County Republican headquarters.

Mr Barton who is also serving as director of the state campaign for the young Republican division was introduced by Grant E Mouser Jr Republican candidate for congressman from the Eighth district who prefaced his introduction with a brief survey of the national political outlook.

The record of John W Bricker Republican gubernatorial candidate as attorney for the public utilities commission as a member of the commission and as attorney general was reviewed by Mr Barton and was summed up with the statement that as attorney general in a period of more business than at any time in the state's history he had been able to return to the state treasury some of the appropriation which was made for his office "and what he has done as attorney general he can do as governor."

Attack was made on Governor Davey's administration with the charge that it has become a "political racket" and the question was raised of the vast expenditure of money by the Davey organization to reelect the governor to a $10,000 a year job. "Haven't the people the right to demand knowing where this money (campaign fund) is coming from?" the speaker questioned adding "I believe the people are not going to let a man buy his election this year."

Mr Mouser spoke briefly in his national survey opening with the statement that "The time to be of service is when you are in congress not on the eve of election when you are making promises which you might have had an opportunity of fulfilling if you had been on the floor serving your constituents." He spoke of Governor Landon as a man with a knowledge of farm questions labor and business and in speaking of the national relief set up as a means of "playing politics" said "If I am elected to congress when it comes to spending the taxpayer's money for relief I will vote against building up a political machine."

Meetings in Marion on Oct 9 at which Attorney General Bricker will be the principal speaker and a meeting about Oct 20 at which former Senator James Watson a close associate of the late President Warren G Harding will speak were announced by Bud H Lawson chairman of the County Republican central and executive committees.

A potluck picnic supper of the County Young Republican club has been set for Thursday night at 6 at the home of Mr and Mrs Paul D Michel of Bellefontaine avenue. If the weather is inclement the picnic will be held at the Republican headquarters at 134½ East Center street.

T A O'Leary president of the County Republican club presided for the meeting and at the close introduced candidates. Music was furnished by the Young Republican Glee club under the direction of Mrs Frances Long and by a male quartet from the club. Fred W Warner district committeeman spoke briefly presaging the success of the coming campaign.

The meeting was preceded by a dinner in Mr Barton's honor at Hotel Marion.

Married Comrades

Harry and Dicky Plan Further Quiz of Man as Women Leave Room on Request.

AT the nurse's statement that a surgeon ought to examine the wounds she had just dressed, the man through whose shoulders Lillian's [illegible] bullets had [illegible] broke into excited exclamations. But he evidently still remembered Harry's and Dicky's admonition and spoke no word in English.

But both Lillian's husband and mine showed no concern whatever at her comment.

"He'll see a surgeon all right," Dicky said. "There's a pretty competent one over by the [illegible] house where we [illegible] until the Department of Justice men can take him to a Federal prison. I'd say until we deport him, but he seems to fancy that all [illegible] too well."

The wounded man uttered another torrent of invective but Dicky went on unheeding.

"But what do you think, Miss Whitlock? Will he die if a surgeon doesn't see him for the next six hours?"

The shadow of a smile stirred Miss Whitlock's mouth.

Asks Women To Leave

"Speaking unofficially, remember," she said, "I am sure he will be all right for that length of time. But don't quote me."

"We shall protect you, never fear," Dicky replied. "In fact nobody will ever know who bandaged this chap. The rest of us won't talk and this bird won't be where he can."

He let his eyes rove from the nurse's face to Lillian's and to mine.

"Now if you femmes will amoose as soon as the good Lord will let you, he and we'll try to pick up a few missing links in this bird's story. How about it, Madge? Is mother's door locked from the outside? No danger of her getting out without making a noise we can hear?"

"I locked her door," I answered, trying to keep as outwardly calm as Lillian and the nurse appeared to be. But inwardly I was thrilling to the realization that something unusual, almost sinister, was in the air.

"I'm sure she's safe for the rest of the night," I went on, "unless there's some unusual noise."

Uncle Stays

"We can guarantee there won't be any from the inside of the house at least," Dicky replied, and as he spoke he picked up a roll of gauze and commenced to unroll it with a meaningful look at the mouth of the man on the couch.

"Now if you'll get out pronto," he reiterated, "we can get to work."

There was a hint of steel in his voice which sent a shiver down my spine. I felt no inclination whatever to remain in the room where the captive was to be faced by Lillian's husband and mine, so [illegible] in a relentless mood.

Lillian, Miss Whitlock and I turned with one accord toward the door. As we did so my father's brother stepped forward, touched Dicky on the arm and pointed to the foreigner and his own chest with an inquiring lift of his eyebrows.

Dicky's response was instantaneous. He gestured emphatically that my uncle was to remain in the room, and Harry [illegible] nodded his decided agreement with his friend's verdict.

He Seems Amused

My uncle nodded and then swiftly moved to the door and held it with deferential attention until we had all passed through it, and I could have sworn that his lips were again quirking with [illegible] amusement at [illegible] jest [illegible] on [illegible].

As we emerged into the hall Miss Whitlock turned toward my father's room again where he had so cleverly kept up the fiction of his being dangerously ill. But Lillian took her arm and pointed to the stairs.

By tacit consent none of us spoke until we had come downstairs to the library where we found Katie busy with the electric contrivances in the corner. Lillian smiled engagingly at her.

"When the men come down, Katie, you'll find us in Mr Graham's study," she said, and I knew instinctively that she wished to say something she did not wish garrulous Katie to overhear.

The Wrong Murderer

BY HUGH CLEVELY

[illegible] Terrence Mahony [illegible] reached Elsa Little [illegible] star and Ruth [illegible] from Ambrose Lawson's [illegible] of kidnapers [illegible] was not sure Terrence [illegible] he may be suspected of [illegible] Elsa's uncle [illegible] when he meets Lawson [illegible] house and Lawson [illegible] that Terrence accompany [illegible] Little house. Terrence [illegible] he dislikes Lawson's [illegible] evidence that he suspi[illegible] attach to him.

CHAPTER [illegible]

Betrayal

[illegible] and Lawson [illegible] He frowned [illegible] had probably [illegible] for? Who the devil [illegible] up to [illegible] Was he planning to have [illegible] intercepted before [illegible] the Little house? He [illegible] his hand into his pocket [illegible] closed on the [illegible] of [illegible]

Now both Kennedy and Lawson were looking at Elsa. And Elsa was looking at Mahony. On her face was an expression of the most utter horror and dislike. He might have been [illegible] the way she looked at him [illegible] and clearly.

"I recognize this man," she said. "He was the man who was [illegible]," she said.

* * *

Her words struck Mahony with all the force of an unexpected blow between the eyes. He had thought it in the last degree improbable that Elsa would remember his voice. And he objected strongly to her thinking that he had killed her uncle. The horror and contempt in her eyes stung him. The gleam of satisfaction in Lawson's eyes infuriated him. For a second he was moved to indignant protest.

"It wasn't I who murdered your uncle," he said hotly.

At that Inspector Kennedy leaned forward lightly with the eager air of a tiger about to grip its prey.

"So you know Mr. Little has been murdered," he said keenly. "Will you explain how you know that? The news has not been published in any of the newspapers yet."

He paused.

"I have to warn you that I am a police officer and that anything you say may be used as evidence," he added. "You are not obliged to answer my questions now."

It was obvious to Mahony that he had made a bad slip. The knowledge jerked him into a realization that he had to keep his wits about him.

"How do you think I know he's been murdered?" he asked bluntly. "Lawson told me on the way here."

"What's that?" exclaimed Lawson.

For a moment he showed his white teeth in a smile. He would have smiled in the same way at an opponent who had made a good shot at tennis, particularly if the shot was not quite good enough to win the point.

"I didn't mention the murder to you on the way here," he said.

Mahony stared at him with an expression of utter amazement on his face. He appeared to [illegible] Lawson had gone [illegible]

[illegible]

* * *

[illegible] indignation had gone [illegible] in a way he was rather [illegible] the position was very awkward [illegible] dangerous.

He claimed to have recognized him by his voice as the man who had killed her uncle. But that recognition alone, especially considering the dazed state she had been in after her uncle's murder, was not sufficient to convict him in a point of law without a good deal of corroborative evidence. It was up to him to see that no such evidence was forthcoming.

"Can you give me an account of your movements after ten o'clock last night?" asked Inspector Kennedy.

Mahony shrugged his shoulders. "Very roughly," he answered. "I've been away for about four years, you know, and last night I simply wandered alone about London seeing the sights. I walked along Oxford street, the Strand and back by the Houses of Parliament, Ebury street, Sloane street and Hyde Park. I stayed in the Park for some time listening to one of the stump speakers. I don't know what time I got home, but it must have been pretty late because everybody was asleep."

"I suppose you didn't meet anybody you knew during your wanderings?" asked the inspector.

"No. But it's not likely that I should. I hardly know anybody in London," explained Mahony.

There was a pause. The inspector's next question came very suddenly and curtly.

"I understand that you have recently returned from a four years stay in China. Did you know anybody out there engaged in the dope traffic, exporting drugs, I mean?"

Mahony hesitated for a moment. Then he decided to be quite truthful.

"Yes," he replied. "I met a man out there who talked to me about that sort of thing. He was a Russian named Vladamir Kosoff. I believe I broke his jaw."

"You seem to be a somewhat violent person," observed Inspector Kennedy. "I take it that the thought of engaging in that trade yourself has never occurred to you?"

"No," answered Mahony.

"Do you disapprove of it?" asked the inspector.

"I think it's a filthy traffic," said Mahony.

But he wondered a little anxiously what the inspector was getting at.

"A most creditable sentiment," said the inspector blandly. "And when you returned to England you went at once to stay with your friend Mr. Ross?"

"Yes," agreed Mahony.

"He is a particular friend of yours, I take it?" persisted the inspector.

"Yes," agreed Mahony again. "We were at school together."

"Has it ever been suggested to you that Mr. Ross is a dope addict?" asked the inspector.

Mahony had been waiting for something like that. He was ready for it.

"Billy Ross a dope addict! Don't be silly," he said contemptuously.

The inspector had not said "Ross is a dope addict" in the manner of one stating a fact. He [illegible] has been suggested to [illegible] pages or [illegible]

The last person Terence expects to see arrives tomorrow.

New Circulating Gas Heater Spells Doom for Old, Hand-Fired Methods

Thousands Modernize By Turning To Gas Heat

Clean, Carefree, Healthful

Biggest topic of conversation in heating circles this fall has been the increasing number of families who are modernizing their homes with gas heat. Many have installed automatic gas-fired equipment in their present furnaces. Others are replacing old fashioned stoves with circulating gas heaters. Such equipment is most flexible in its use—is adaptable to any home without a central heating plant. Families who move and must take their heating plants with them, are showing a strong preference for these appliances. Gas heat means the end of building and refueling fires—of carrying out ashes—of experiencing uneven temperatures. All incidental expenses considered, this modern heating costs no more than old fashioned methods.

The Spending Habit

Federal fiscal experts have predicted—not for publication of course—a balanced budget in 1938 if business activity continues at current pace

On the face of the figures they present their argument is plausible They point out that practically all of the soldiers $2 000 000 000 bonus bonds will be retired by June 1 This payment together with the supreme court's invalidation of AAA processing tax [illegible] has been responsible for the current year's anticipated deficit of $2 000 000 000 Business gains it is estimated will raise federal revenue as high as $7 000 000 000 during the fiscal year beginning next July With no more bonus payments to make with relief disbursements lowered and with regular departmental outlays remaining about the same experts feel a balanced budget is a certainty

This news from the sages might be reassuring if it were not for the intangible but potent factor of psychology By now President Roosevelt must have convinced most persons that he is by nature a spender Time and time again since the wheels of business started turning and gained added momentum with every turn the President has shown himself unable to resist the temptation to spend and spend—until it hurts That staggering relief appropriation which he admits may be boosted by half a billion next session shows no signs of diminishing notwithstanding the heralded arrival of recovery

Financial facts despite the difficulty of forecasting for nine months ahead point to the possibility of hitting somewhere near a balanced budget in the 1937 1938 fiscal year but habits of the present administration are all against it

Testing Our Freedom

The Rev Fr Coughlin has done more perhaps than any Catholic in the United States to prove the freedom of opinion which Catholics enjoy This quotation from Archbishop McNicholas' criticism of the radio priest centers upon an issue of vital importance to Americans

In a speech before a National Union for Social Justice rally at Cincinnati Fr Coughlin declared When any upstart dictator of this nation succeeds in making of this nation a one party form of government and the ballot becomes useless I shall have the courage to stand up and advocate the use of bullets In a formal statement the archbishop of the Cincinnati archdiocese severely censured the NUSJ leader for advocating violence but defended his right to exercise his freedom of speech

Most Americans will agree with the archbishop and hold that the radio priest's choice of ideas and epithets is entirely a matter for him to decide Yet it must be conceded that a leader who advocates violence or stimulates his followers to think in terms of violence causes some persons to wonder whether our concept of freedom of speech is too liberal Are we really safe in assuming that a demagogue is his own worst enemy

Happily American experience with the tradition of free speech makes it possible to give a reassuring answer As a people we are dedicated to the proposition that suppression of liberties not abundance of freedom is the root from which disorder grows The fact that men in the past also have spoken of bullets instead of ballots without rocking our foundations is proof that we have chosen wisely in adhering to the widest possible concept of freedom

More Of This Needed

There is a new disposition among persons who have been taking abuse from the tongue lashers of the new deal's large and active department of public attack to fight back

More of this kind of thing is needed There has been an unusual amount of loose talk New dealers have not spared men of wealth and prominence though in most cases the only thing chargeable to the victims were 1—They were successful and 2—They were not new dealers

Wednesday night John D Rockefeller Jr defended with coolness and candor the contributions made by himself and members of his family to the Republican campaign fund in Maine Mr Rockefeller pointed out that he believes political parties are the best means of presenting arguments on both sides of a question He further believes that it is his right and his obligation as a citizen to give financial support to the political party of which he is a member—the Republican party

If Mr Rockefeller happened to be a member of the Democratic party he never would be criticized for contributing money to the Maine campaign at least not by Democrats

Another admirable reply to new deal calumny is contained in the new issue of the magazine Fortune In it E T Weir identifying himself as one of the men President Roosevelt calls economic royalists submits himself for comparison with his attacker His background asserts Mr Weir chairman of the board of the National Steel Corp does not entitle him to call other men royalists His experience has not equipped him to pass judgment

There's room for more straight talking of this kind It would be fun to hear from representatives of millions of just ordinary men and women who because they disagree with new deal ideas have been slandered by that group's professional attackers If the Rooseveltians want to play rough the least their intended victims can do is to be obliging

Geneva Is Heard From

The most zealous supporter of the League of Nations will have to confess there is something funny about that organization's insistence on acting as though Emperor Haile Selassie were sitting safe and secure on his throne in Addis Ababa

The emperor is in Europe His court is scattered The loose hold which enabled him to call Ethiopia an established government has been broken Italy has routed Ethiopian soldiers Italians occupy Addis Ababa and as Premier Mussolini says Ethiopia is now Italian

These facts are not pleasing to everyone but they are facts The only way to make them cease to be facts is for a combination of world powers—say Great Britain and France—to go to war with Italy to [illegible] to shatter Premier Mussolini's [illegible] and to conquer the Italian population

Obviously no one has any idea of [illegible] this Yet the League of Nations [illegible] that Ethiopia still must be a member [illegible] attitude which [illegible] possible for Italy [illegible] ... would [illegible] on its roster than an existent Italy

The whole thing is [illegible] insisting [illegible] answer [illegible] concern [illegible] clashes [illegible] knows [illegible] out Mr Shaw [illegible] fight [illegible]

[illegible] for [illegible] fundamental purposes [illegible] because [illegible] more [illegible] them under existing conditions

Of course [illegible] can be urged against [illegible] all of the methods employed but [illegible] the adoption of the Hull [illegible] this new [illegible] one of the [illegible] of the new deal

Governor [illegible] objections against the present method of negotiating the agreements and putting them into effect But imperfect as these methods [illegible] infinitely better than the scandalous [illegible] of a general tariff revision by Congress and there is every reason to believe that specific reciprocal treaties if they were submitted to the senate or to Congress would be murdered by highly organized pressure groups

Other factors as well as tariffs affect foreign trade As Governor Landon pointed out exchange restrictions quotas the ending of political uncertainties in general revival of prosperity Currency stabilization is important

The problem must be attacked on many fronts But so far as tariffs are concerned the Hull procedure in the Star's opinion is the one effective method so far proposed to get the desired results

Regarded As Strong Defense

Coming from a powerful newspaper in the heart of the agricultural area where the reciprocity treaties have been under attack the Kansas City Star's editorial is a strong defense for a policy which many Republicans regretted was so specifically condemned in the Republican platform in Cleveland under the domination in committee at least of high protectionists in the east

This writer has all along favored the Hull agreements and the reciprocity idea believing that while there are some inequities in the Canadian treaty the general purpose is sound and that the plan ought to [illegible] Secretary Hull [illegible] the [illegible] Democrat [illegible] that Mr Roosevelt [illegible] partisan [illegible]

The Star [illegible] letters from readers [illegible] the good things the new deal has done Quite the contrary The policy of trade agreements has always received my approval just as I believe the recent alignment with France in currency stabilization was a step in the right direction My fear is that the administration in Washington will not follow it up but will leave [illegible] to drift in monetary matters as well as trade enlargement much as we have [illegible] for the last five years American credit resources are ample to aid in the rehabilitation of the European economic situation which in turn will help increase employment here in the United States But the isolationist attitude of Mr Roosevelt is broken only occasionally by Mr Hull's ability to win approval for such cooperation [illegible] the reciprocity agreements and the currency stabilization move last week In the latest move Mr Hull played no doubt a stimulating part alongside Secretary Morgenthau

Massed Tanks New War Threat

BY ROBERT CHASSEUD

I N S Staff Correspondent

DRAGUIGNAN France Sept 29 — Mass raids by light tanks behind the enemy's lines may revolutionize modern warfare according to conclusions drawn here from mass maneuvers just held in the south of France

Light tanks in surprise attacks it has been demonstrated are capable of breaking through trench lines and occupying—or at least [illegible] and demoralizing—key positions in the rear of the opposing forces

Newly perfected French models it is announced were virtually 100 per cent successful in a series of such raids and as a result of the test the construction of light raiding tanks is expected to take up a considerable proportion of the appropriations recently decided upon for the rearmament of France against the threat of Chancellor Hitler's two year conscription law

The maneuvers just concluded for the first time since the war brought an army of over 10 000 men into action along the southern frontiers The strategy worked out during these grand scale maneuvers particularly involved the problem of repulsing an invading army having crossed theoretically the southeastern border occupying the department of the Alpes Maritimes and threatening to attack Toulon France's largest naval base in the Mediterranean

Assembly of Experts

A large number of military attaches from various nations including Colonel Fuller representing the United States Winston Churchill General Gamelin Pierre Cot the French minister of air and General Mittelhauser of the supreme war council attended the mimic battles which lasted three days

Special tests were made on rapid troop movements in the mountainous regions over a large area between Manosque and Draguignan with the Blue Army —the attacking party—advancing more than 40 miles over precipitous mountain paths or carefully camouflaged in the open

Marches and counter-marches were made day and night while heavy artillery guns were booming and machine guns rattling Several contacts occurred between the two parties consisting of three divisions of infantry a brigade of Spahis and a large number of modern motorized units as well as black troops representing the enemy

Squads of airplanes cooperated in the movement bombing the strategic positions or flying over the mountains signalling information to the two imaginary armies

Obstacles Overcome

According to military experts all the operations were successfully executed in spite of the tropical heat and forest fires which broke out mysteriously throughout the region at the beginning of the maneuver

The [illegible] tests of this big military show [illegible] ... [illegible] point of defense [illegible] ... [illegible] of the [illegible] ... [illegible] stubborn [illegible]

Money Pact A Gentleman's Agreement

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON Sept 29—The money arrangement between Washington London and Paris was advertised at first as a stabilization pact It has since been called a democratic monetary entente It is neither

What it amounts to is a gentlemen's understanding that the three big money players will not cut each other's throats in the international poker game while one of them France is revaluing her chips This sensible arrangement is guarded further by an if They will do it if it does not cost them too much

Nearly every one is now settled down to asserting that it is the first step toward currency stabilization and it is in the same degree that putting on your hat is the first normal step toward going for a walk but putting on your hat has nothing to do with determining the direction you may follow after you get out the door In other words the big money powers have adopted a truce but have reserved broad freedom for future action while France is removing the largest obstacle to serious stabilization discussions

Stabilization may and should come of it, but no one now knows when or how

Salesmanship

The plain fact is the truce was over ballyhooed for political purposes not altogether domestic but mostly French

As every one knows French governments have been having a difficult time selling the devaluation theory to their [illegible] farmer gold hoarders But it could no longer maintain its unreasonable gold position in the face of continued foreign withdrawals It had to face the end of a losing fight which should have been faced months ago In view of this precarious domestic French political situation it was advisable to rate the international angle of the move as high as possible—a boon to civilization a great step toward peace the biggest thing that has happened to the world in many a year

This was right down the line of Mr Morgenthau's recent thoughts at home A presidential campaign is under way here The French could not possibly rate the agreement too high to suit Mr Morgenthau As far as he is concerned they can call it the step which saved the world from collapse and give him credit for it

Trading

If the stenographic notes on the three weeks of advance dickering were known you would have a better understanding of Mr Morgenthau's sigh of relief in announcing that the gentlemen were still gentlemen 24 hours after the agreement was reached Money manipulating is a rough game and the negotiations were not anything like parchesi

For example the insiders say Britain held out until the last two days She was very reluctant to go into anything that would keep sterling at its pegged relationship with the dollar Frankly the British assert the dollar is undervalued If Britain could have jiggered us into an agreement not to devalue further she could have let the pound and franc sag together and reaped a strong advantage Not only would the British trade have been benefited but they would have been in a better bargaining position when the serious arrangements for permanent stabilization begin A slightly cheaper pound permits nations to buy British goods at a discount below American goods

More than a suspicion exists that Mr Morgenthau brought the British around running by a neat little maneuver It is said he withdrew support from the tottering franc and left the British treasury holding a sack full which had been purchased pending some agreement Whether or not this is accurate it will afford you an accurate insight into the difficulties ahead in working out a stablization agreement which will be fair and final

Good Deed

The final wording of the no throat cutting agreement had been finally reached The British prime minister had okayed it So had the president of France But Mr Roosevelt was at Hyde Park still studying the deft wording of it

Into Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's office came a representative of the French embassy excited as only a Frenchman can be when a bargain is nearing an end He was out of breath and gasped something substantially as follows

Mr Secretary I have received a cablegram from my government It says it is getting late in Paris—it is now after 11 o'clock there—and the president of France is tired He wishes to go to bed

Genial Mr Morgenthau agreed this was a rather grave matter He sent a short message to Hyde Park on his private wire saying the French president was tired and wished to go to bed He asked for instructions President Roosevelt promptly approved the draft of the announcement and sent along among other suggestions his best official wishes to the president of France for a good night's sleep

End of An Unusual Career

BY O O McINTYRE

NEW YORK Sept 29 There was a vivid recollection of real life triumph and tragedy of the stage when they buried the roly poly and cherubic Nikita Balieff of the famed Chauve Souris in Belasco's tomb some weeks ago The chief mourner was rightfully Morris Gest who discovered him in a dark Moscow cellar

Balieff was still performing in a cellar—a gilded grill on Central Park South—when stricken He had but one trick That was his strutting exploitation of The March of the Wooden Soldiers A tune that sets feet atingle wherever heard And Balieff made the most of it

He paraded it in New York more than a year then in every large city in America and across the European continent and back several times He had at one time a fortune of $500 000 in safety box cash But eventually his wooden soldiers became worn out toys And Balieff a Pagliacci

Like many improvident idealists he thought success would go on forever He lived on a grand scale a charming host to Russian refugees and titled pick thanks Always good for a touch this bland smiling little man But not many came to him in his hour of dolor

And there was scant comment on another figure in the Broadway theater world who passed from the scene the same time as Balieff I refer to White the pioneer photographer The first to introduce flash light then a dangerous experiment that maimed and blinded Readers of theater news learned to know that identification of a picture Photo by White Studio Two other I recall were Byron and Sarony But White seemed better known and his full stage enlargements graced many lobbies He paved the way for the Cecil Beatons and other deluxe lensemen who now merely touch a button to achieve art with the elegant A

CAR USED BY BANK ROBBERS IS FOUND

Stolen Machine Identified as One Driven by Men in Eaton Holdup.

By The Associated Press

EATON, O. Sept. 29—Bank robbers who took $654 from the First State bank at nearby West Manchester were sought today while authorities examined an abandoned stolen automobile for possible clues to their identity.

The car taken in Cincinnati a few hours before the robbery yesterday, was found along a side road near Glen Karn, in southwestern Darke county. It was towed in, Sheriff John Fahrenholz reported, and was identified by residents of West Manchester as the one observed speeding from the scene of the robbery.

The three men first were seen heading in the direction of Hamilton and Cincinnati, but apparently "doubled back north," Fahrenholz said.

While one man remained in the car, two others entered the bank, one with a sawed-off shotgun and pistol forced President C. A. Leas, Cashier Robert Eyer, Director Joseph Ware and Albert Henderson, a customer, to lie on the floor. The money was scooped from the counter and vault.

ARREST DELAWARE HOLDUP SUSPECTS

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 29—Chief of Police Earl Amrine and Paul Crimm, manager of the Delaware Capitol Loan Co. which was robbed of $500 last Thursday, went to Lima yesterday in an attempt to identify two suspects arrested by Lima police as the men who participated in the holdup. One of the men was carrying approximately $300 in cash when apprehended, Lima authorities said.

Chicken-Pox.

There is a rather common but quite erroneous belief that chicken-pox is exclusively a disease of childhood. As a matter of fact, the disease may affect adults as well.

Recently a young man of whom I heard noticed several pimples on his face. He thought little of the condition until he found the rash was spreading over his entire body. You can imagine his astonishment when the doctor told him he had chicken-pox.

As a rule the disease is encountered in young children of school age. Since it is highly contagious and rapidly spreads from one child to another, every measure must be taken to control it. If possible the disease should be avoided.

Fortunately, chicken-pox is rarely serious. But I beg of you not to be misled into the belief that to have it is a "natural" event. No disease can be considered natural, nor should it be regarded as inescapable. Children are always much better off if they do not have the so-called childhood diseases.

The sufferer from this ailment first complains of headache and pain in the back. These symptoms may be ignored or thought to be due to a digestive upset. The true nature of the attack is recognized when the characteristic skin rash appears.

This, more commonly spoken of as the "pocks," first appears upon the face, chest, back, and then the abdomen. These spots usually appear in crops. At first the spot is pink or red in color. Soon a blister forms, ruptures and then forms a scab which falls off ultimately. This group is followed by a new crop and as the first spots fade away new ones appear.

Unfortunately, the rash itches so severely that the desire to scratch is difficult to resist. But every measure should be taken to control scratching, because if the scab is rubbed off before healing a scar will be left. Another danger from scratching the skin is the possibility of infection. When this happens there is the formation of pus. Then incision and drainage of the infected sore are necessary.

LIQUOR CRUSADE

Neither Hillsboro nor Washington C. H. can claim to have been the scene of the first crusade of women in Ohio against the sale of intoxicating liquors. As early as 1849 a group of women of Williamsburg, Clermont county, moved upon a brewery in that village and closed it up for the time.

The Williamsburg women did not approach the owner of the brewery with prayer and entreaty as in the Hillsboro and Washington C. H. cases, however. John Bools, owner of the brewery, had exasperated the women by catering to the appetites of a goodly number of town drunkards. When they appeared at the brewery they did not display any dangerous implements, and so they were not resisted. But once inside they seized hammers and broke open barrels and casks, broke open vats and malt containers and let the contents run out. The plant was generally wrecked.

DISEASE TOTAL LOW IN DISTRICT REPORT

Communicable Cases Listed for Eight Counties.

Only three new cases of communicable diseases, one of scarlet fever and two of diphtheria, both in the city of Marion, were reported for Marion county by the state department of health through the county health commissioner, Dr. N. Sifritt, for the first half of September.

In nearby counties the following figures were reported: Crawford county, one of chicken-pox in Bucyrus; Delaware county, two of tuberculosis; Hardin county, three scarlet fever and two tuberculosis, Kenton, three of tuberculosis; Union county, two of tuberculosis and one of typhoid fever. Morrow and Wyandot counties reported no new cases.

The total for the state during the first half of September was 1,811.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH EXEMPLIFIED IN U. S.

Smart Move?

That, in cold cash words, was taken by some to mean that the federal treasury will continue, at least for a time to pay crop control or other benefits to farmers, regardless of whether Mr. Landon or Mr. Roosevelt is the next President. How then, some observers asked, will Mr. Landon suffer or benefit from arriving at that position?

They questioned, for instance, whether Governor Landon, by promising temporary continuation of the farm benefit payments has wiped out farm checks as an issue.

If he has, it is asked, has he dispelled fear of loss of benefit checks to a degree that will permit farmers to examine both candidates objectively?

If the answer is affirmative, some political critics were disposed to credit Landon with a smart move for undoubtedly the effect of those periodic crop payments has been to bring support for the source which offered them.

Conflicting Position Seen

But to some who heard the speech over the radio it appeared that Landon had a conflicting position to adjust. Those Iowa listeners cheered when he promised continued benefit payments, but the radio simply danced with vibrations from the applause at his mention of debts and taxes.

In seeking to develop an aura distinct from the new deal, the one the Republican party and its candidate have most emphasized is that of economy and debt reduction. Verily, it is to be expected the Democrats will seek to make much of the seeming conflict between economy and continued benefit payments, even if Landon promised only to fulfill present obligations.

CORN CHAMPION BACKS BRICKER

The above photograph shows Ira C. Marshall, Hardin county man generally recognized as the world's champion corn grower, and John W. Bricker, Republican nominee for governor, examining prize corn on the Marshall farm near Ada.

Mr. Bricker's recent visit to the Marshall farm was the occasion for a declaration by Marshall of his support for the Republican's nominee and criticism of Ohio's present governor for the lack of a farm program.

"The present governor has never had and has not now a constructive program for the farmer," Marshall said. "That is why I, a lifelong Democrat, am for John W. Bricker for governor."

For six consecutive years, 1922 to 1928, Marshall led the 100 Bushel club in production of corn, his lowest yield during that period being 157 bushels to the acre and his highest 176 bushels. His success in raising corn earned him the title of world's champion corn grower and a dinner in Washington, D. C., at the request of President Coolidge.

OHIO POLITICAL BATTLE CONTINUES AT FAST PACE

Bricker Lashes State Extravagance While Davey Points to Improvements at Marysville.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 29—With only a month and five days left to the campaign, the Ohio political war continued its fast pace today, Gov. Martin L. Davey claiming a "wholesome transformation" in two more welfare institutions and his Republican opponent, John W. Bricker, again criticizing state expenses.

Reiterating past statements of conditions in the state reformatory for women at Marysville before he removed the former matron, Mrs. Louise Mittendorf, Governor Davey said last night in an electrically transcribed radio speech:

"It is almost impossible for anyone to realize, who has not been acquainted with the situation at Marysville, what a great and wholesome transformation has taken place."

In Sandusky Bricker told a Republican rally that state expenses had been increased by $18,500,000 of which he said $14,000,000 was unnecessary.

Bricker also repeated a previous statement that a Democratic campaign fund of between $250,000 and $500,000 was being raised through state employes and firms doing business with the state government.

Discussing the state highway department, Bricker said roads were costing more than at any time in the history of Ohio and added:

"The time for a long range road construction program is here and the emphasis should be on roads rather than on a political machine."

Davey asserted the program of the former matron at Marysville was "almost barbaric."

"She denied those inmates everything that women and girls want," he said, "even the expression of their feminine instinct to appear well."

Declaring the Soldiers' and Sailors' home at Sandusky was conducted before removal of Commandant Perry Null on "an extravagantly wasteful basis," Davey said conditions there too had improved greatly.

Charles P. Taft II of Cincinnati told a Y. M. C. A. forum in Dayton that "the relief program of the federal administration actually makes it harder for a man to get back for a real job."

The Republican national committee announced in Chicago that former Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania would speak for Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, the presidential candidate, in Cleveland Oct. 5 during a two-week tour of the mid-west and west.

GRAND JURY PASSES LABOR ROW CASE

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 29—Assistant Prosecutor John Hatner said today the case of William Szakos, 23, of Cleveland, charged with first degree manslaughter in the death Sept. 21 of Edward L. Scarry, labor convention delegate, would be passed to the next session of the Clark county grand jury. The grand jury yesterday took similar action in the cases of three others facing the same charge in the slaying. The cases of those passed on to permit collection of additional evidence were Trent Longo, Elmer Hausterman and Grant Scott. The jury did not mention Szakos' case specifically.

FORMER RESIDENT OF PROSPECT DIES

Special to The Star

PROSPECT, Sept. 29—Cary Judson Hedges, 51, native of Prospect township, died at 8:30 o'clock last night at his home in Columbus. He had been critically ill since last March.

Mr. Hedges was born Nov. 11, 1881. Surviving are his widow Mrs. Florence Hedges, a sister Mrs. Mae Knachel and a brother Daton Hedges, both of Prospect. The body will be taken to Prospect for funeral services and burial.

NOV. 4 DATE SET FOR HUSKING CONTEST

By The Associated Press

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 29—Issuing an invitation to 20 county corn-husking champions to compete in the state contest Nov. 4, state agriculturist John D. Ragg said today the event would be staged on the Apple Creek state farm of the Ohio welfare department five miles southeast. Contestants will race down 100-rod rows for the title now held by Raymond Kennedy of Paulding county. The event precedes by six days the national contest to be held in Licking county, Ohio, which county agent George Dustman estimated would attract upwards of 25,000 spectators.

DEMOCRATS PLAN FOR 2 MEETINGS

First at Waldo, Oct. 1, Second at Prospect.

Plans progressed today for two countywide Democratic meetings, one to be held at Waldo, Oct. 1, the other at Prospect, Oct. 17. William J. Kennedy of Cleveland, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, and Carl W. Smith of Kenton, former secretary to Gov. George White and present secretary of the state board of parole, will speak at the Waldo meeting. Music is to be furnished by the Waldo community band and the meeting will be held at the town park starting at 5 p. m.

The program for the Oct. 17 meeting at Prospect, which is to be held in the high school auditorium, has not been completed. James F. Lauer of Prospect is general chairman for both meetings.

The measure was introduced in the senate by Vincent Auriol minister of finance, after which the upper chamber adjourned until tomorrow to allow time for the finance committee to study the text.

The bill specifically reduced the gold content of the franc from 65.5 milligrams to between 49 and 43 milligrams set up a stabilization fund of 10,000,000,000 francs and gave the administration sweeping powers to prohibit price increases.

The measure met immediate resistance from the left Republican party group of the senate which belongs actually to the political right wing.

The group denounced the financial measure as a "hostile project which consecrates the ruin of savings and makes a heavy menace weigh on the farm interests."

Bars Price Boosts

A vigorous attack on the government's proposal to readjust salaries of public functionaries on a sliding scale caused abandonment of the project. Premier Blum instead asked for sweeping authority to prohibit price raising.

The premier said the strike situation was easing and assured the chamber occupation of factories by striking workers would not continue.

Throughout the night long session ... steel helmeted mobile guards stood on duty in a large part of Paris. Their presence was not connected with the chamber's session but to prevent suburban truck farmers from carrying out a threatened march on the central market.

Small farmers irate over competition with large vegetable producers and market regulations which they contend compel them to dump a large part of their produce had planned to try to prevent unloading of produce trucks at the market.

One hundred marchers were arrested and held for a short time as they reached the city's gates. Others in the procession were turned back.

Money Agreement To Be Flexible

WASHINGTON Sept 29 — A flexible but controlled relationship between the dollar and the pound rather than an exact ironclad ratio appeared today to be a probable aim of the tri-power monetary agreement.

Secretary Morgenthau told a press conference late yesterday that the monetary understanding by Great Britain France and the United States included no definite agreement on the dollar pound ratio.

This question had aroused speculation since the accord was announced last Friday night because the dollar and the pound are important measuring rods for other currencies and the relationship between them thus has a vital bearing on the international monetary and trade situation.

LEAGUE'S INAUGURAL CLASH ON PROGRAM AT SHELBY FRIDAY

Mt Vernon To Play There, Harding To Meet Mansfield Tigers Saturday

Harding High's Presidents and [illegible] other schools in this section of Ohio will participate in the opening of the North Central Ohio conference league this week-end.

The inaugural contest of the conference [illegible] will be played Friday night when Mt Vernon travels to Shelby. Harding will trek to Mansfield and Galion will entertain Ashland in a league tangle Saturday afternoon.

Rain called off a practice session of the Harding team yesterday afternoon as Coach Carl Cramer began preparations for Harding's participation in the N C O league opening. The Presidents will invade the camp of the Mansfield Tygers, the long odds favorite to [illegible] once more for the league championship. Mansfield opened its season by trimming Cambridge 20 to 0 two weeks ago but last Saturday was stopped 10 to 7 by Massillon High claimant to the 1935 state scholastic title.

Backfield Shows Well

Harding's team played its initial game at Delaware and went to a scoreless tie with Willis High school. Its game Saturday with Mt Gilead finished in a 27 to 1 victory for the Cramermen. Harding's inexperienced backfield displayed its deceptive abilities and shifty running attack which netted the Presidents long gains on numerous occasions.

Coach Cramer was pleased with his team's showing last week but remarked that the boys still lack the experience which will weigh heavily against them when they oppose a club of lettermen.

The team he said has shown marked improvement since the opener at Delaware last week and with continued practice we hope to invade Mansfield with a squad which should give a good account of itself.

Mt Vernon Looks Strong

In the entire league Mt Vernon is the team which suffered least by graduation. The Yellow Jackets may have a surprise in store for other members of the N C O with the outfit which is built around seven veteran backs and six experienced linemen. The Jackets swept to a 21 to 6 victory over Newark last Saturday and will invade Shelby for a floodlight contest Friday night.

Galion and Ashland opponents for the second N C O game Saturday compute favorably only in the fact that both teams have veteran lines returning from last season. Galion has one veteran returning for backfield duties and Ashland must depend upon new material for the backfield.

Galion's opener at Willard ended in a 7 to 6 defeat when the N C O team failed to convert for the extra point and last Saturday Crestline scored a 13 to 6 victory over the Crawford county school. Ashland High which may be quite a bit stronger than pre season dope indicated swamped Norwalk 18 to 0 in its initial game last week.

THE touchdown play that Stanford used to beat Southern Methodist in the Rose Bowl last New Year's day had been in the bag three years.

This time it was tried and it worked.

It was a delayed buck over Southern Methodist's right tackle. You can see any kid's team on a vacant lot employing what amounts to the same play.

The idea is practically the same but the technique might not be quite so good in the sand lot game. When you win a game with it some enthusiasts might describe it as a wonder play. If you lose it's only a [illegible] play.

On this particular play Stanford lined up with a double wingback formation and unbalanced line, the strong side on the right.

The ball went to Fullback Grayson on the first play. He banged at the line inside Southern Methodist's left tackle. It was pretty tough going. On the next play the ball went to Quarterback Paulman who waited until Grayson had smashed into the same hole he had hit previously.

While the Southern Methodist boys were piling in to stop Grayson, Paulman went through their right tackle on the weak side of our line for the touchdown. Not much to rave about on that one but it won the game.

Giants, Yankees Set To Begin World Series Tilts Wednesday

(This is the first of a series of stories on World Series [illegible])

* * *

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK Sept 29 — Two baseball clubs that were picked to finish third this year in their respective pennant races will start the big money battle tomorrow in the first all New York series since Babe Ruth and John McGraw ended a spectacular three year rivalry in 1923.

The Yankees and Giants not only upset several barrels of baseball dope but hung up a flock of records.

All signs point to baseball's most prosperous season since pre depression days being climaxed by smashing all previous records for the size of the players pool as well as for total attendance and gate receipts.

All reserved seats at both the Yankee Stadium and Polo Grounds have been sold. This means that more than half the capacity of each park already has been disposed of at top prices of $5.50 for reserved seats and $6.60 for box seats for six games. Lines already have been formed in front of the windows at the Polo Grounds where 21 000 unreserved seats will go on sale tomorrow morning.

The stadium can accommodate 71 767 fans including some 6 000 standees. The Polo Grounds capacity is 51 856.

If the series goes no more than four games the aggregate receipts will be around $1 000 000 including the $100 000 already in the bank for the sale of radio rights.

The general expectations is that it will take six games to reach a decision with Yankee power arrayed against a Giant defense that features the great Carl Hubbell. A full seven game battle would send the gate to $1 500 000 as compared with the record of $1 207 864 set 10 years ago in seven games by the Yankees and Cardinals.

The players as usual share only in the first four games so that they will have no incentive whatever to prolong the proceedings for the benefit of the club owners. If the parks are jammed, as expected the combatants may split close to $150 000. The highest previous player pool was $119 000 for the 1928 series between the Cardinals and Yankees.

Whether Manager Joe McCarthy decides to send Vernon (Lefty) Gomez against Hubbell in the opener or shifts to his right handed ace Charles Rufus (Red) Ruffing the Giants will be favorites to make a victorious start on their own stamping grounds.

This writer favors the chances of the National league champions for the following reasons (1) That Hal Schumacher and Freddy Fitzsimmons with their downers will combine with the peerless Hubbell to give the Giants more consistently effective hurling than any three men the Yankees can send to the box (2) that the Yankee advantage of virtually 20 points in team batting over the season is misleading because it was compiled at the expense of softer pitching (3) that the Giants more resourceful and steadier defense makes up for the comparative weak spots in the batting order and (4) that Memphis Bill Terry is more apt to have the right managerial hunches than Buffalo Joe McCarthy.

The Yankees have a great reputation as World Series sluggers to uphold. They have set most of the records for long distance clouting and just [illegible] which they took the record books apart.

BUSY WEEK ON TAP FOR OHIO COLLEGE FOOTBALL PLAYERS

Wesleyan, Defeated by Pittsburgh Tackles Dayton Ohio State Plays New York

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS Sept 29 — Ohio's big game hunting football teams of last week-end were back home today willing to play it in their own backyards next Saturday.

Last year several of the Buckeye teams lived up to that [illegible] adage the bigger they are the harder they fall [illegible] knocking off big time foes. This year the worm turned and [illegible] Buckeye clubs learned the other half of the adage the smaller they are the farther you knock [illegible].

Ohio teams lost eight of 11 games with out of state foes over the week end. Next Friday and Saturday 21 games are on the slate and 10 of them are with foreign opposition.

Ohio Wesleyan smarting under a 53 to 0 setback at the hands of Pittsburgh meets Dayton university 14 to 0 loser to Marshall in the only Buckeye tilt this week.

Ohio University's Bobcats with no game scheduled will spend the week end licking the wounds suffered in the 46 to 0 loss to Purdue. Cincinnati 40 to 6 loser to West Virginia tackles Butler while Miami victor over Depauw Saturday meets Case which lost to [illegible].

The week end's headline attraction however sends the 1936 edition of Coach Francis Schmidt's Ohio State razzle dazzle football juggling act into action against Mal Stevens New York university team.

Each team dropped but one game last year but the Bucks are favored to take the Violets into camp. Ohio meets Pittsburgh powerhouse the following week end.

Seven Ohio conference contests are on the week end slate last year's championship Baldwin Wallace team the nation's leading scorer in 1935 clashing with John Carroll at Cleveland Friday night. Denison and Muskingum meet in another loop fray under the lights while the third Friday tilt puts Adrian against Xavier at Cincinnati.

Findlay meets Toledo in an Ohio conference game Saturday night but four other league events are on the daylight schedule. They are Wooster at Wittenberg Bowling Green at Capital Ashland at Ohio Northern and Kent State at Heidelberg.

Other Saturday games all in the afternoon are Bluffton at Wayne university (Detroit) Oberlin at Rochester Rio Grande at New River State Western Reserve at Akron Mount Union at Westminster Marietta at Rutgers Hiram at Allegheny Defiance at Buffalo and Alfred Holbrook at Kenyon.

The Western Reserve Akron contests looms as an early season classic. The Zippers under their new coach Jimmy Aiken turned back Detroit Tech 33 to 0 Saturday while Reserve has piled up 99 points in beating Findlay and Bowling Green.

BREWERS WITHIN ONE GAME OF SERIES FLAG

Victory Over Bisons Places Milwaukee Team Near Title in Playoff

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE Sept 29 — The Milwaukee Brewers and the Buffalo Bisons traveled to Buffalo today to resume the Little World series with the American association champions needing only one more victory to win the series.

With their long range hitters again providing the winning punch the Brewers took their third straight game here last night 3 to 1. Home runs by Chet Laabs and George Detore accounted for all the Milwaukee runs while Lanky Luke Hamlin held the International league flag winners to five hits.

Manager Ray Schalk pinned Buffalo's fading hopes today on the sturdy right arm of Bill Harris while Manager Allan Sothoron of Milwaukee said he might use either Garland Braxton a left hander or Joe Heving right hander.

An overflow crowd of 15 212 last night brought the attendance total for the three games here to 36 333.

Junior High School Grid Games To Start Thursday

Marion junior high school football competition will get under way this week when the Edison and Vernon teams clash at Harding stadium Thursday afternoon at 4 15. The game not only marks the inauguration of the season but marks the first inter-scholastic football game for Marion junior high schools.

The season schedule was revised and completed at a meeting of the three junior high mentors and Coach Carl Cramer last night. The six game program will permit each team to play the other teams twice, with a round robin night game set as the climax to the schedule.

Edison's destinies are in the hands of C H Hannahs and J Eugene Auld is coach of the Vernon Heights grid team. Together with Central High's team coached by Howard Hoffman the squads have been issued game equipment. All of the squads have been holding regular practice sessions during the past two weeks and Edison and Vernon have been given scrimmage drill and work on plays.

Sixty seven junior high pupils have reported for practice at the three schools. Central and Edison have 22 candidates practicing with an eye to seeing service in the regular line up while at Vernon 27 pupils reported for the gridiron workouts.

The revised junior high schedule follows: Oct 1—Edison vs Vernon Heights Oct 8—Central vs Edison Oct 15—Central vs Vernon Oct 23—Edison vs Vernon Oct 29—Edison vs Central Nov 5—Central vs Vernon Nov 13—round robin game.

All of the junior high school games will be played at the Harding High stadium. With the exception of Oct 23 contests all are set for 4 15 o'clock. The game Oct 23 will be played at 6 15 o'clock as a preliminary to a Harding varsity game. The round robin contest Nov 13 will be played under the flood lights with each of the teams meeting each other team for one half game.

NICHOLS FLOORS ESTES WITH "CHIN SPIN" HOLD

Jackie Nichols that cool calm Floridan won by the chin spin over the youthful Toots Estes of Elk City Okla and Ken Hollis south western hefty lost to Speedy La Rance of Montreal Can by disqualification after hurling the referee from the ring in the two feature scraps on last night's wrestling card at the Shovel arena.

Nichol's far famed neck jerk failed to bring him out a bad spot as he lost the first fall to Estes in 20 minutes. He resorted to the old favorite to gain the two following rounds. He took the second fall in six minutes and the deciding tiff in just slightly less than 10 minutes.

LaRance a former Canadian Olympic champion faced a playful opponent at the start of each of three falls against Hollis but the melee never advanced far before the southwestern husky brought it to the level of a brawl. The Canadian's flying neck scissors won him the first round at the end of 22 minutes but the pressure of his opponent's leg spread made him say uncle in 10 minutes of the second round to even the battle. LaRance went over the strands in a try for a neck scissors and was repulsed to the floor in attempting to return.

Referee Pop Browning used his efforts to protect LaRance but the ired Hollis hurled the official from the ring bodily and began a none too gentle barrage of words claiming the fall and scrap. Referee Browning turned a deaf ear to the threats of Hollis and awarded the fall and match to LaRance by disqualification.

In the 20-minute preliminary which opened the program at 9 30 o'clock Charlie Tomczak of Chicago furnished the opposition for Frankie Clemmon of New York City. Clemmons opened by working on his opponent's arm with a stretch and lock and Tomczak countered with a toe hold. Both wrestlers battled clean throughout the entire 20 minutes and went to a fast finish draw.

Blocking sparring and countering Estes and Nichols appeared as ring veterans in the opening last night. Nichols early in the opening round began trying for the deadly chin spin but Estes apparently aware of its dangerousness avoided it successfully. An Indian death lock with his arms gave Estes the edge over the Floridan in the first round. Nichols came out of it only momentarily to register a shoulder butt and try the neck hold but Estes countered with two punts and finished the fall with a body press.

Nichols applied a head hold and chinlock on Estes at the outset of the second fall. He put on the famous chin spin to weaken Estes and finished with a neck scissors and spill to take the round. Nichols edged out of a tough body scissors in the deciding set to put a keylock on his opponent's left arm. The Oklahoman resorted to punting but Nichols used the chin spin with a neck scissors and catapult to win the third fall and match.

Although he was 21 years old when the Belmont Nursery stud was dispersed Fair Play brought $100 000. He was bought by Joseph E Widener.

OWENS SAYS HE'LL REENTER OHIO STATE IN JANUARY, 1937

Jesse Making Political Talks in Boston as Registration Deadline Nears

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O Sept 29—Ohio State university opened its doors for the fall quarter today but its enrollment records lacked the name of Ohio's premier athlete Jesse Owens.

But Owens in Boston where he made a three-minute political speech lifted some of the gloom surrounding Ohio State's track coach Larry Snyder. He asserted definitely he would return to school for the winter quarter in January.

Owens is now engaged as a professional entertainer. He had said previously he would return get his degree and seek a job as coach in a Negro school.

If Jesse doesn't run for us he said with a deep sigh I guess we'll win the Big Ten and the National Intercollegiates. All he ever did was give us four first places any time he started and we can pick up runners like that any time.

Any time.

Snyder refused to wonder if Jesse would be eligible for competition should he return. The National A A U has suspended him.

But I'd like to have him around Snyder said so that if all this controversy is ironed out he could be getting back in shape for the indoor meets. If he doesn't come back we're in a swell spot.

Meanwhile the world's fastest human told a Republican audience in Boston last night that when he met Gov Alf M Landon of Kansas the Republican presidential nominee the memory of his Olympic honors faded.

He is the most interesting man I have ever met and I almost forgot everything about the Berlin Olympic games during our conversation which covered almost every subject except politics.

PROFIT TAKING SLOWS MARKET

Some Specialties Push Up but Advance as Whole Is Slight.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept 29—Specialties pushed up fractions to a point or more in today's stock market but profit taking depressed a number of the leaders.

On the upside were Paramount, Loew's, Twentieth Century Fox, Holly Sugar, American Sugar Refining, Westinghouse, Shell Union Oil, Consolidated Edison, Evans Products, Electric Auto-Lite, Deere and U. S. Rubber.

In the backward class were Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Santa Fe, McIntyre Porcupine, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Anaconda and Kennecott.

Rubber futures recovered some of their declines of yesterday.

Other commodities held to a restricted range. Bonds were slightly mixed. Call money renewed at 1 per cent.

Banking quarters generally seemed pleased with the move under way by the European gold bloc nations to bring about an orderly devaluation of their currencies.

Domestic business and industrial progress continued to bolster trading sentiment.

At the beginning of foreign exchange transactions nominal quotations were posted for sterling at $4.95⅛, up ⅜ of a cent; Swiss francs, 23.03 cents, off .33 of a cent, and guilders, 55.48 cents up .51 of a cent. The French franc was not quoted.

The program will be presented at 4 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. George Kleinmaier. Fruits and vegetables will be brought by the children as a part of the festival observance, and later these will be distributed to the needy.

The feast, which begins Thursday, is a festival of thanksgiving and praise and continues through eight days. In larger cities than Marion the occasion is elaborately observed. The program Sunday will mark the only observance by the local congregation.

$139 DONATED TO SHOE FUND

Gifts of Money and Clothing Help 203 Needy Children.

Funds raised for purchase of shoes for Marion's needy school children last week brought in approximately $139.20, Supt. C. A. Hudson reported today.

Contributions at the three banks and the administration building totalled about $42, the remainder of the sum coming from the benefit theater party given by the Palace theater management. Several dollars are yet to come in from the sale of tickets at one of the schools.

To date 203 children have been equipped for school with clothing and shoes contributed by Marion residents in the drive staged Sept. 18, according to a report by Miss Grace Colvin, visiting teacher. The boys and girls were given either clothing or shoes, or both.

Many of those to whom clothing or shoes was furnished had not been in school since the opening on Sept. 8, and the majority were attending in worn, thin garments and barefooted or wearing shoes too worn to give any protection.

Distribution of the clothing and shoes has been placed in charge of Miss Colvin who, by personal contact in the homes, is best able to judge conditions, Mr. Hudson said.

Although the contributed clothing and shoes which will be purchased from the fund will not be sufficient for the entire winter, the generous contributions of Marion residents will go a considerable way towards relieving the situation, those in charge of the drive said.

Mr. Hudson extended his appreciation to all the Marion organizations and individuals who had any part in the success of the clothing and shoe fund drive, particularly to the women of the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs, the King's Daughters and the Parent-Teacher association, who contributed hours of their time to the sorting of the clothing.
